

All Our Concerns Are Solvable, But Only Together

The Pied Piper Project - Ridding Us of the Rats...

by Nicholas Ashton, CEO/CIO, CommSmart Global Group

As stated by President Donald J Trump regarding the global necessity to work alongside each other and terminate those that wish us harm, death and detract from all the good we have strived for.

We understand the global requirements, we personally know the demands of our communities and how we must make change together, which we know we have the ways and means to do so.

A new spirit of optimism is also sweeping our country, our communities: in just a few short months, almost a million new jobs have been created, adding over 3 trillion dollars of new value to the U.S. economy, lifted the major burdens on American industry, and making record investments in our military and promised investment in our police agencies that will protect the safety of our people and enhance the security of all.

America is a sovereign nation and our first priority is always the safety and security of our citizens, no matter what color, class or creed.

We are not here to preach a sermon—we are not here to tell other people how to live their lives, what to do, who to be, or how to worship. Instead, we are here to offer community partnerships between the people and their police – based on shared interests and core values – to pursue a better future for us all.

We are discussing many social interests we share together. But above all we must be united in pursuing the one goal that transcends every other consideration. That goal is to meet history's great test—to conquer extremism and vanquish the forces of crime, especially gangs, drug use and their sales, which are responsible for over 80% of criminal acts.

Young boys and girls, all teenagers should be able to grow up free from fear, safe from violence, and innocent of hatred. And young men and women should have the chance to build a new era of prosperity for they and their pending own families.

But this future can only be achieved through defeating crime, domestic and global terrorism and the cultural differences and ideology that drives these factions.

Few cities have been spared its violent reach and continuing escalation.

America has suffered repeated barbaric attacks – from the atrocities of September 11th to the devastation of the Boston Bombing, to the horrible killings in San Bernardino and Orlando.

The nations of Europe have also endured unspeakable horror. So too have the nations of Africa and even South America. India, Russia, China and Australia have been victims.

Iraq, Afghanistan and the Middle East have shared the horrors too.

America, its cities and communities have endured a constant growth of crime, drug peddling, murder and stupid gang killings which are based on a no respect rule.

We now face a humanitarian and security disaster in our cities that is spreading not only here but across the planet. It is a tragedy of epic proportions. No description of the suffering and depravity can begin to capture its full measure of the insanity.

This untapped potential, this tremendous cause for optimism, is held at bay by the flow of street bloodshed and terror. There can be no coexistence with this type of violence. There can be no tolerating it, no accepting it, no excusing it, and no ignoring it.

Every time a criminal murders an innocent person, and falsely invokes the name of his or her God, it should be an insult to every person of faith.

Terrorists/criminals do not worship a God, they worship death.

If we do not act against this organized gang crime and terror, then we know what will happen. Community devastation of life will continue to spread. Peaceful societies will continue to become engulfed by violence. And the futures of many more generations will be sadly squandered.

If we do not stand in uniform condemnation of these gang killings—then not only will we be judged by our people, not only will we be judged by history, but we will be judged by God.

This is not a battle between different faiths, different sects, or different civilizations.

This is a battle between barbaric criminals who seek to obliterate human life, and decent people of all religions who seek to protect it.

This is a battle between Good and Evil.

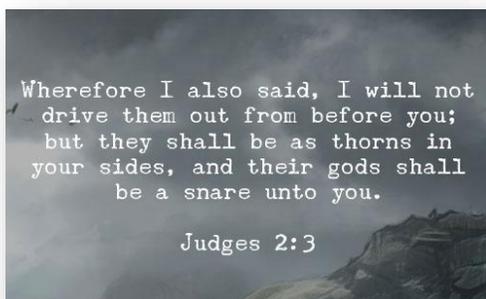

We can only overcome this evil if the forces of good are united and strong – and if everyone and every community does their fair share and fulfills their part of the burden.

The cities and communities cannot wait for our law enforcement to crush this known enemy for them. The local communities from their local roots will have to decide what kind of future they want for themselves, for their community, and for their children.

It is a choice between two futures – and it is a choice others CANNOT make for you.

A better future is only possible if your community drive out the criminals and extremists.

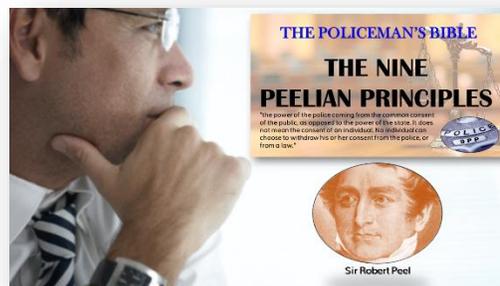

Drive. Them. Out.

DRIVE THEM OUT of your places of worship.
DRIVE THEM OUT of your communities.
DRIVE THEM OUT of your neighborhoods and schools.
DRIVE THEM OUT OF THIS EARTH.

Sir Robert Peel, back in 1829 formed the first police force in London and gave us the Nine Peelian Principles, which stand firm still today, with the additional tenth principle, Digital Policing.

"The People Are the Police and the Police are the People"

For our part, Americans must be committed to adjusting the strategies to meet evolving social threats and new facts. We will discard those strategies that have not worked—and will apply new approaches informed by experience and judgment. We are adopting a Principled Realism, rooted in common proven values and shared the interests.

Our next door neighbors will never question our support for each other, and our enemies will never doubt our determination. Our community and police partnerships will advance security/safety through stability, not through radical disruption. We will make decisions based on real-world outcomes – not inflexible ideology. We will be guided by the lessons of experience, not the confines of rigid thinking. And, wherever possible, we will seek gradual reforms – not sudden intervention.

The first task in this joint effort is for your community and police to deny all territory to the criminal foot soldiers of evil. Everyone has an absolute duty to ensure that criminals find no sanctuary on their soil.

By using all statutes and laws on the books, we deny criminal organizations control of neighborhoods and citizens, we must also strip them of their access to funds. We must cut off the financial channels which are all drug connected.

Starving criminals and gangs of their territory, their funding, and the false allure of their craven ideology, will be the basis for defeating them.

But no discussion of stamping out this threat would be complete without mentioning the government that gives terrorists all three—safe harbor, financial backing, and the social standing needed for recruitment. It is a regime that is responsible for so much instability in communities.

We are the leaders of our peoples. They look to us for answers, and for action. And when we look back at their faces, behind every pair of eyes is a soul that yearns for justice. Justice for all!

Today, community faces are now looking at us, waiting for us to act on the great question of our time.

Will we be indifferent in the presence of evil? Will we protect our citizens from its violent ideology? Will we let its venom spread through our societies? Will we let it destroy communities? If we do not confront this deadly gang and criminal terror, we know what the future will bring—more suffering and despair. But if we act unified and determined to do what it takes to destroy the social terror that threatens us and the world—then there is no limit to the great future our citizens will have.

Communities and or citizens are waiting to begin a new renaissance. Just imagine what tomorrow could bring.

Improved commerce to inspire humankind. Great cities built on the social ruins of shattered towns. New jobs and industries that will lift up millions of people. Parents who no longer worry for their children, families who no longer mourn for their loved ones, and the faithful who finally worship without fear.

These are the known blessings of prosperity and peace. These are the desires that burn with a righteous bright flame in every human heart. And these are the just demands of our neighbors, friends and family.

Join us, to join together, to work together, and to FIGHT together— BECAUSE UNITED, WE WILL NOT FAIL.
