Securing Our Children, Running Towards the Danger With Real-Time Knowledge

Since 2012, there have been 1,907 mass shootings in the United States, according to the Gun Violence Archive, which defines mass shootings as those in which four or more people were killed or injured, not including the shooter. In 2018 alone, 360 people have been killed and 1,276 wounded in 321 mass shootings.

Each time a mass shooting hits the headlines, all Americans undergo the same repetitive water cooler conversation and tap their concerns with fingers and thumbs on all the unsocial media platforms. People rush to one side of the philosophical gamut, and the conversations misplaces its foundation in what actually happened and how it could have been prevented. The instant urge to appeal to ambiguous coast-to-coast chants about gun reform precedes the conversation about policies and deterrence.

The 'Blame Game' is not where the energy needs to be placed. If someone wants to kill or attack others, they will find a method or implement to do so. Rules and regulations, marches and protesting will never stop the growing problem.

Reactionary efforts are always 'after the fact' and do nothing but stir up emotions and displace dynamism; it is the 'proactive means' that must be enacted with a solution that makes sense.

Proactivity is the key to protecting and saving lives of all when an active shooter or violent incident unfolds.

Law Enforcement Network Sharing Solution

There is no debate to be heard on what is necessary to put into action now to protect our precious assets within the education system. Schools, colleges, universities are the heart of attacks by other students; there is always a calculated plan to make radical change against others they know, sit by and want only to do harm to. The collective environment of an education facility is a magnet for liability harm to others.

School Resource Officers are embedded within our education system. They are part of local law enforcement and should be seen as more than the smiling cop in the hallways.

Schools are like any city center, students live elsewhere with their outside activities and come together for a set number of hours per education day. SRO's can have so much more information at their fingertips if only there was a means to have cross-border/agency real-time information at hand on all students and faculty.

THEY CAN & THEY SHOULD!

It is necessary to understand all, meaning every single student and faculty member that enters those buildings. Not just what actions and concerns are within those walls, but what other incidents or concerns they bring from outside to within the facility on a daily basis.

Collated information that is constantly being updated in real-time is the simple basis. It is called LENSS (Law Enforcement Network Sharing Solution). It's in today's society that we have to document and record all that happens, there is far too much to memorize, it must be documented, and that is where LENSS is the answer for real-time accessible across border/agency with documented information/data.

Each individual or incident is a 'subject packet,' a collated electronic file which is securely available to all law enforcement no matter where they are located. The 'subject packet' is key, as, at the time of the interaction, so much information is being stated by the person who has been stopped. This, in short, a note form when documented, is searchable and can be 'keyword' searched by any officer researching any other incident. It may not be relevant today, but down the road will make a connected sense of the situation.

A simple way to describe is how a police officer stops a vehicle, he or she immediately queries DMV (Dept. of Motor Vehicles) which returns basic information of make, model, and ownership. Not a lot of information to really basis much on.

Under LENSS, it brings the same information, plus any other notated information by other officers who have 'stopped or touched' that vehicle before. This now gives a full background and pattern of the vehicle.

The occupants driving license is now queried via NCIC (The National Crime Information Center), which is limited in nature. Not with LENSS, it brings all information noted by previous officers who have interacted with the individuals and others who were at the time with or associated with this driver, location, reasons and importantly comments or statements made, including outcomes. This is a far different cry from the very basic information that does not alert the officer. LENSS is officer safety on steroids.

More importantly, all those officers that have had previous contact are now updated via SMS Text/Email on this stop or interaction in real-time on their Smartphones!

Including the School Resource Officer!

Access to facilities, the open-door policy is not working, we do not know who is who, this is a major anxiety today. Having no idea of the intentions of people who enter our facilities, should be of concern regarding liability and 'Duty of Care' responsibility. We are all too trusting in this litigious society and are witnessing daily incidents in public and private locations, educational facilities/campuses, large corporate office complexes, courthouses, shopping malls, sports/event centers, casinos, and the healthcare industry.

The heart of the matter is real-time information which is a proactive measure which is absolutely necessary in today's violent trends. It works for all and in operation for the last three and half years.

Be proactive and take that necessary step to understand more, we would like to converse with you on a subject that demands attention, now.
