The Dirty Rotten Drug Money that is the Basis of the Majority of Crime

Millions & Billions Traveling the Transportation Corridors of the World

Dirty money is an understatement.

The only proactive part of law enforcement is attempting to track monies/currency inserted into the drug and organized crime world, and then frustratingly attempting to be tracked, located and then match the seized funds with stored and siloed evidence of the street inserted currency.

So why does law enforcement do this? Cash, currency, bank notes are the only means drug cartels, dealers and organized crime can move their ill-gotten gains. They use others who foolishly comply through either a cash payment or are forced to do so.

Is there a better mousetrap for tracking currency?

Of course, there is, and momentarily we shall introduce the LENS (Law Enforcement Network Sharing Solution) Module of Global Currency Tracking.

Let us explain for those that are not in the enforcement business:

Money laundering is the process by which a person or organization converts cash and assets gained through illicit activity into a form that can be used legitimately and openly without drawing the attention of the authorities. The name refers to the attempt to 'clean' what would otherwise be considered 'dirty' money.

A money mule, sometimes called a 'smurfer,' is a person who transfers money acquired illegally (e.g., drug monies, stolen) in person, through a courier service, or electronically, on behalf of others. Typically, the mule is paid for services with a small part of the money transferred. Money mules are often dupes recruited online for what they think is legitimate employment, not aware that the money they are transferring is the product of crime.

The money is transferred from the mule's account to the scam operator, typically in another country. Similar techniques are used to transfer illegal merchandise.

In the U.K. this is the 'County Lines' issue which is consuming the youth and includes a form of slavery, that can and will be reduced and stopped.

These transported monies whilst on the streets, highways, and byways are being sort by law enforcement who have no direct means on the streets to know if they have illicit funds or not.

Not anymore! If you haven't already heard, there is a revolutionary solution that has been in use and operation successful for over three and half years and now available for you and your department/agency. This is truly a 'Force Multiplier' of an empirical nature.

The LENS Currency Tracking Module is the only global solution for tracking of 'drug buy or organized crime funds' that you inserted into society. If you are photocopying these currency funds and placing in a filing cabinet for checking later, you are a LENS client!

Money laundering that is a major global issue is solvable through LENS. Let us first address currency tracking and why the LENS (Law Enforcement Networking Sharing Solution) has a currency tracking module that not only automatically counts the currency, notates the denomination and records the serial numbers, produces a printed list and places the collected data in a national cloud-based CJIS compliant database with access by all who have administrative access via a laptop or Smartphone in the field. Yes, to all officers who when stopping a suspect who has suspicious funds or is a known drug dealer or currency mule can run their currency serial numbers in real-time for a comparison.

Any street-level officer on the LENS Currency Tracking Module can scan seized funds from their computer or Smartphone, if it is a match for the uploaded currency, the officer whose case it is, will be notified instantaneously via SMS Text and Email, that is within thirty seconds. None of the case information is seen by the officer on the street.

Make an appointment; we will visit in person, converse and demonstrate the active solution.
